Applicable course work from regionally accredited U.S. institutions are accepted; other course work may be accepted by review on a case-by-case basis, if equivalent to course work offered at UHCL and applicable to appropriate programs. Plus and minus grade designations are not used to determine the cumulative transfer GPA. Remedial or developmental course work is not used in the calculation of the transfer GPA. Associate Degrees Applicants who have earned associate degrees may be admitted as follows: Earned an Associate of Arts, Associate of Arts in Teaching or Associate of Science degree from regionally accredited institutions. Are eligible to return immediately to the last institution attended. UHCL may also admit applicants who have earned Associate of Applied Science (AAS) degrees (in specific disciplines) toward the receipt of Bachelor of Applied Science (BAS) degrees. Currently, the UHCL BAS degree has five tracks; one in the School of Business, three in the School of Education and one in the School of Science and Computer Engineering. School of Business BAS applicants must have earned either an AAS degree in Allied Health (or related field) or 12 semester credit hours toward an Allied Healthcare degree and have met the 54 hour general admission requirements of the university; School of Education BAS applicants must have either an AAS in an Early Childhood (or similar discipline) or have 12 semester credit hours toward an Early Childhood degree and have met the 54 hour general admission requirements of the university (BAS applicants to Early Childhood programs may also use Math for Liberal Arts to satisfy the math requirement); School of Science and Computer Engineering BAS applicants must have earned either an AAS in Information Technology (or related field) or have met the 54 hour general admission requirements of the university. Other applicants having an AAS degree, who will not apply to the BAS degree program, must meet the university's 54 hour general admission requirements to be considered. In addition to these requirements, all applicants born or educated in countries where English is not the native language must submit proof of English proficiency. A valid Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score or its equivalent is required. Acceptable scores are: 550 on the paper-based TOEFL exam, 79 on the iBT TOEFL exam, 53 on the Pearson's Test of English (PTE) exam, 6.0 or higher on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS) exam or proof of successful completion of the intensive English Language Program (ELS) - level 112. Scores submitted to fulfill the English proficiency requirement must be less than 2 years old at the time of admission (other exemptions and waivers may apply). New undergraduate students transferring from community colleges or universities in Texas, who have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75, will be considered for renewable Automatic Transfer Scholarships. To determine the transfer GPA, UHCL uses all courses for which credit was earned (including repeated courses); developmental courses and plus and minus grade designations are not used for purposes of calculating the transfer GPA. Undergraduate non-degree-seeking transient applicants are not required to meet the English composition and math admission requirements; however, registration in specific course work may be limited in some departments. Graduate degree-seeking applicants must submit official transcripts from each school attended. General admission granted to the university, does not ensure admission to degree candidacy in specific academic disciplines. Separate criteria may apply in each school or in specific programs within each school for GPA, foundation coursework, score or score waiver requirements (if applicable) and deadline dates for the submission of required documentation. Although non-degree-seeking applicants to certificate programs are required to submit official transcripts from each school attended, graduate test scores are not required. Other graduate nondegree-seeking students (including transients) must submit official transcripts from the school where they earned their highest degree and from the last school attended, if different.
