Summer 2018 “Enrollment Needed to Make” (see attached)
Dr. Houston reviewed with the committee “Enrollments Needed by College for a Class to Make” document (for Summer 2018). He said he took 1/11th of each full time faculty member’s nine-month salary. He computed that by the number of students for undergrad or graduate and compared it to the amount of money that will be generated by statutory and designated tuition rates. This applies only to resident students using the domestic rate. This document does not include formula or international students.

FY19 Budget Update (see attached)

Ms. Deja Sero reviewed the Budget Reduction Plan for FY18 thru FY20 with the committee. Ms. Sero said this is the actual plan that happened in FY18 and reflects what happened in FY19 and the cuts that took place in each area. The university reallocation ($889,564) are shifts that she made in the budget in order to meet our budget goal. She noted that the base commitments includes the $96,000 that was paid out for faculty promotions. The net tuition changed and it includes statutory and designated tuition. She said there are parts of tuition that we cannot count in our base budget to support the departmental operations. These are our set aside and our Texas Promise for Education Grants (TPEG). When we raise tuition or enrollment goes up, 15% of that goes into a cost center that we cannot budget (it is for graduate and undergraduate residents). Ms. Sero said after removing the set aside and TPEG we ended up with a negative ($4,556,904) to support our departmental operations. She used $5,911,005 in university reserves to support the budget.

In FY20, we are looking at 3% reduction. She said with the enrollment projections she has for FY19 and using the tuition increase we just made she is projecting a $1.2 million increase in designated tuition to support the budget. Even though we will have that additional revenue, we still have an overall shortfall of $2.1 million that we need to balance the budget for FY20. She is basing this off enrollment remaining the same for FY19 and FY20. The only increase was what we did in tuition. Ms. Sero said going forward, as things change they will make budget adjustments on a quarterly basis.
Suggestion Box
Dr. Michael said he would send out the Suggestion Box results to the committee.

With no further business to discuss, this meeting was adjourned.
