

Principal as Instructional Leader Upcoming Test Prep Sessions

As you study for the Principal as Instructional Leader (268) test, be sure to prepare with us at our upcoming review sessions! We have two options that you can take individually or together to build your confidence going into the test. Both sessions are online and have many date options. Cost is $100 for a full-day session. The trainings are intended for principal certification candidates only.

Principal As Instructional Leader Certification Assessment Test Prep

The Principal As Instructional Leader Certification Assessment Test Prep session allows you to build your test-taking skills by diving into the domains and competencies, practicing with 268 question types and content, conducting a TAPR review, and writing a response to a Constructed Response question upon which you will receive feedback. Our knowledgeable instructors will also answer your 268 questions and make sure you feel ready for the test!

Constructed Response Deep-Dive

The Constructed Response Deep-Dive session provides more specific instruction on approaching the four Constructed Response items worth 40% of the overall Principal as Instructional Leader (268) test. The instructors will guide you into the styles of writing required in answering the constructed response prompts, provide a closer look into the CR rubric and several CR examples, and give you time to practice. You'll also receive feedback on your practice writing attempts and most importantly, be trained to self-assess your written responses by internalizing the important elements of the CR rubric.
