

Water Quality Internship Opportunities at GBF

The Galveston Bay Foundation is seeking two currently-enrolled university students (undergraduate or graduate) for two separate paid water quality internships for summer 2018.

The Water Quality Research Intern will assist with data collection, management, and analysis of GBF's volunteer water quality data.

The Water Quality Community Engagement Intern will assist with public engagement and outreach of GBF's water quality data.

Resumes and Cover Letters can be emailed to waterquality@galvbay.org. Applications close April 17th.

More about this water quality data can be found at (www.galvbay.org/watermonitors).
